

Rainbow Hideaway Introduction:

To start with check the refrigerator. There is a lot of important info like contact numbers, places to eat, and emergency numbers.

We are Gil and Cindy Rose, snow birds from Vermont. We spend the winters working on the house down here in Florida and having fun. We leave most of our kitchen tools and play toys here for everyone to use. I think you'll find it's pretty well set up for family fun.

We love this place and enjoy hearing about your stories. There is a section in the back of this notebook to share your stories with us and other guests. A friend that came down to visit us has created a web site for the guests. It's in its early stages, but will have a place for guests to share their photos, discoveries, and ideas for fun. The QR code is below. Feel free to add things* Until it's fully set up or if, like me, you're not computer savvy, share your things in the back of the book.

The goal of this notebook is to share ideas for fun and answer questions you might have.

Feel free to call us in Vermont if you have any questions: 802-728-4861. We don't have cell service where we live but do have an answering machine.

We also have a team in Florida to help.

Kelly Sorensen cleans the house and deals with indoor problems. Her number is on the fridge 352-426-1817. She is available 24/7. She is always working and sometimes doesn't hear her phone over the vacuum. Even if her mail box is full she'll get back to you soon.

Tom Romeo takes care of the outdoor stuff and he is a pretty good handyman. If he can't fix it he'll find someone who can. His number is 352-566-0827.

Because technology is changing and most younger people would prefer to check things out on their phones, this new guest notebook will not focus on giving all the information that you might be interested in, but rather things you should check out and what I recommend.

Most of our guests now are trusted regulars that return year after year or multiple times each year. I'm working on a plan with our marketing company (Evolve) to give discounted rates and privileges to regulars that book ahead, especially for longer stays. Please e-mail me (on the Contact tab) your address if you would like to hear more of what we come up with. Up to now I've put most of my energy into working on the house and making improvements. Now I want to put my energy into building long term connections with the people that have grown to love the house as much as we do.
